

SOULSTONES

In a darkened past the earth got shaken by a war of hell
The forces of evil had hatred in their lines (2x)

They kicked out three of their mightiest to rule the hell
When they were out, they started to do chaos and disorder

Refrain:

See the soulstones which were made to keep the mightiest inside they shall die in thousand flames deep inside these magic stones

A million years have passed 'til then
Two of them are dead
One is still alive
fighting against this stonemade dungeon

With his mindpower he got people for slaves
He will never be calm until he has a body to live in Then he will be mighty enough to destroy the mankind
And sit on his throne of bones and will be laughing

Then one day he had a body
A little boy had to die for
He turned the body into a beast
With horns and nails

Refrain:

And the soulstone lost its power and set the evil free
It will never be rebuilt so all magic is gone forever

He slaughtered and he tortured
And he brought disorder
Would this nightmare never end
Or would the world be dead at dawn

But a brave man came to fight the evil
And to crush his reign in blood
Went up to magic places and screamed out evil names
Soon earth would rumble and the evil stood before him

Then they fought - the evil laughs
But with might - the warrior slammed
A dead body - lies on the earth
It is not - one braveman
Yes it is - the godless evil

Music: Swen Stark, Uwe Hansen & Michael Schipper

Lyrics: Frank Jäschke

1998